CELEBRATE AT THE PHILLIPS COLLECTION
SPECIAL EVENTS AT AMERICA’S FIRST MUSEUM OF MODERN ART
Encounter superb works of modern art in an intimate setting at The Phillips Collection, opened to the public in 1921 in Washington’s vibrant Dupont Circle neighborhood by founder Duncan Phillips. Following the death of his father and brother with whom he shared a close relationship, he and his mother responded by founding the museum, originally called the Phillips Memorial Art Gallery. “Sorrow all but overwhelmed me,” he later wrote. “Then I turned to my love of painting for the will to live.”

Paintings by Renoir and Rothko, Bonnard and O’Keeffe, van Gogh and Diebenkorn are among the many stunning impressionist and modern works that fill the museum. Its distinctive building combines extensive new galleries with the former home of its founder. The collection continues to develop with selective new acquisitions, many by contemporary artists. Special exhibitions and frequent changes in the arrangement of the permanent collection mean that there’s something fresh on every visit to the Phillips. Hosting an event at the Phillips is an opportunity to gain exclusive access to the intimate galleries and take an inspirational tour through an extraordinary collection of more than 4,000 works, ranging from masterpieces of French impressionism and American modernism to contemporary art.

PERMANENT COLLECTION HIGHLIGHTS

JACOB LAWRENCE’S MIGRATION SERIES
The Migration Series 60 panels portrays the Great Migration, the flight of over a million African Americans from the rural South to the industrial North following the outbreak of World War I. Following the example of the West African storyteller or griot, who spins tales of the past that have meaning for the present and the future, Lawrence tells a story that reminds us of our shared history and at the same time invites us to reflect on the universal theme of struggle in the world today.

THE ROTHKO ROOM
The intimate Rothko Room holds four paintings by abstract expressionist Mark Rothko, and reflects the artist’s preference for exhibiting his art “in a scale of normal living.” In 1960, as Phillips was designing an adjoining building to accommodate his growing collection, he designated a specific room for Rothko’s paintings, making the Phillips the first American museum to dedicate a space to the artist’s work. The space set a standard for future commissions for the artist in other locations, but the Phillips’s room remains the only existing installation of Rothko’s paintings that was designed in collaboration with the artist himself.

PIERRE-AUGUSTE RENOIR’S LUNCHEON OF THE BOATING PARTY
Luncheon of the Boating Party by Pierre-Auguste Renoir remains the best known and most popular work of art at The Phillips Collection, just as Duncan Phillips imagined it would be when he bought it in 1923. The painting captures an idyllic atmosphere as Renoir’s friends share food, wine, and conversation on a balcony overlooking the Seine at the Maison Fournaise restaurant in Chatou.

LAIB WAX ROOM
The Laib Wax Room, lined with fragrant beeswax and illuminated by a single bare light bulb, is the first permanently installed artwork at the Phillips since the Rothko Room in 1960. German artist Wolfgang Laib (b. 1950) installed the work in a space he helped to select in the original Phillips house. The Phillips Laib Wax Room is also the first wax room that Laib has created for a specific museum. Accommodating one to two people at a time, it offers a personal, meditative encounter.
The Phillips Collection has expanded from its original house to encompass multiple buildings. To access the Phillips House, use the bridge walkway located on the second and third floor of the Goh Annex or the wheelchair accessible House entrance.

The University of Maryland Center for Art and Knowledge is accessible via the alley walkway between the buildings.
